Trading Environment

The year under review presented a challenging operating environment for the Group. The business faced headwinds from the overall economic slowdown in the country and persistently high competition, which adversely affected margins and customer demand.
Despite these challenges, the Group remained resilient. Consolidated Group sales and other income declined from KES 809 million in 2024 to KES 508 million in 2025.
In view of the Group's funding requirements and preserving cash for reinvestment into core businesses, the Directors do not recommend the payment of a dividend for the year ended 31st March 2025.

Business Overview

Aviation Division (AMS & ADC)
The Aviation Division posted improved performance with revenues increasing to KES 133.3 million in 2025, up from KES 74.6 million in 2024. The growth was driven by higher activity levels, in relation to increased maintenance work. The division contributed 26% of Group revenue.

Trading Division (NBV)
The Trading Division experienced a significant decline in revenues, dropping from KES 412.7 million in 2024 to KES 48.8 million in 2025. This reduction was primarily due to lower demand and margins. The division contributed 9.6% of total consolidated Group revenue during the year under review.

Automobile Division (DAL)
Delta Automobile recorded revenues of KES 325.7 million in 2025, compared to KES 322.3 million in the previous year. Performance remained largely flat, reflecting the slowdown in the transport and logistics activities of its customers. This division contributed 64% of Group revenue.

Outlook
The Group anticipates that the 2025/26 financial year will remain challenging, given the continued high financing costs, and increased competition.

Management will focus on:

- Tightening cost controls across all divisions,
- Protecting liquidity through prudent cash management,
- Rebalancing operations away from underperforming segments, and
- Preserving value in the stronger-performing aviation and automobile businesses.

The Board and Management remain committed to safeguarding the Group's financial stability and positioning the business to weather the ongoing economic pressures.
